Roca Junyent advises major credit and financial institutions on project finance transactions calling for large investments in the context of national and international projects.

Formed by a team of rigorously trained, highly experienced and specialised lawyers and economists, the Project Finance Practice assists in the search for the kind of financing that is right for the client's sector: energy, infrastructures, telecoms or industrial.

To this end, in a first stage we review the best finance options available according to the particular characteristics of every project, particularly looking at key issues such as those with strategic, tax and financial implications.

In a second stage the Project Finance team advises on the negotiation and development of the multiplicity of contracts involved in the project, guiding clients all the way through this complex process.

In order to guarantee the success of every deal, Roca Junyent's team of professionals makes available to all its clients their knowledge, expertise, dedication and enthusiasm, thus contributing to the client's satisfaction and peace of mind.
